My Humble Beginnings 2010

Business Statement April 2011

M-Y-N-D in Icelandic means photo or image.

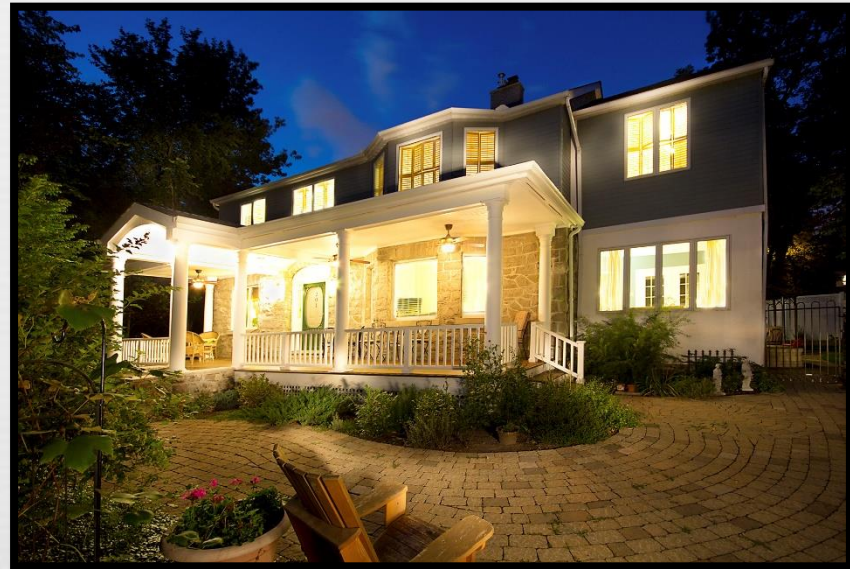

I like that a photograph is made, not taken.
It is made in your own mind
and with your own eye.

It is slow and considered in its making.

M-Y-N-D in Icelandic means photo or image.

I like that a photograph is made, not taken.
It is made in your own mind
and with your own eye.

It is slow and considered in its making.

Anyone can take a photo. It takes a discerning eye, a sense of what is around you, and how everything is reacting to the surrounding light sources to make a picture.

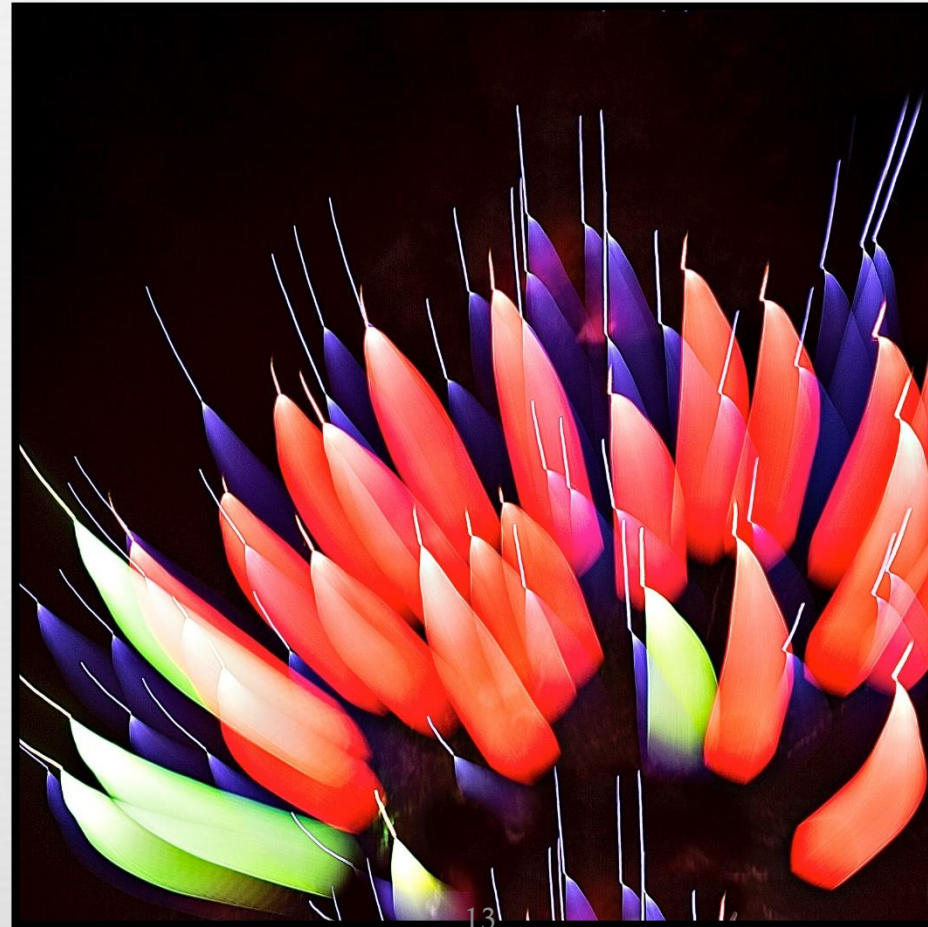

Without light, photography would not exist. In fact light is the true subject of every photograph. My passion is to chase the light, searching for it in beautiful and interesting places, to make pictures and to share them with others.

Photography CAN be Art!

Mynd's.
photography
as art i

Once told that photography was not art, Ginny Fobert believes that a photograph is made, not taken. It is made in your own mind and with your own eye. It is slow and considered in its making. It takes a discerning eye, a sense of what is around you and a comprehension of how everything reacts to the surrounding light sources to make a picture. AND it can indeed be art!

Whispers and Secrets

Primarily a self-taught photographer, my goal is to bring photography further into the art world using unique photographic techniques.
